Target Chooses Tucson Location for Online Fulfillment Center

TUCSON, Ariz. (June 19, 2007) — Target (NYSE: TGT) announced today that it has chosen to locate its online fulfillment center on a Diamond Ventures' site located at 9000 S. Rita Road, across from the University of Arizona Science & Technology Park in the Tucson Commerce Corridor.

With assistance from Tucson Regional Economic Opportunities, Inc. (TREO), Target representatives researched multiple locations in Tucson and other cities before selecting the 100-acre site. Diamond Ventures and Target will jointly develop the site, which is expected to open in spring 2009.

Target selected Tucson for this facility based upon a variety of factors, including the availability of a skilled workforce, transportation, infrastructure, location of the site and quality of life.

"Tucson has an educated and skilled workforce that will help Target and the City of Tucson continue to succeed economically," said Vice Mayor Shirley Scott. "The economic development effort that allowed this project to happen is incredible and I am very glad to see this project come to light."

"We are very pleased to welcome Target's new high-tech facility to Tucson," said Mayor Bob Walkup. "It will mean more jobs for Tucsonans, a stronger economy for the area, another private sector neighbor for the UA Science and Technology Park and a new addition to the Tucson Commerce Corridor."

"We are very pleased that Target has selected our site," said William Kelley, chief financial officer of Diamond Ventures. "This project became a reality due to the hard work of dedicated professionals like Lee Smith and Julie Sapp at TREO, Ernie Duarte and his entire development services group at the City of Tucson, and Bob Davis with the CB Richard Ellis organization."

This is the second fulfillment center for Target.com. Orders are currently fulfilled from centers operated by third-party vendors, as well as a current Target fulfillment center in Woodbury, Minn. Target currently operates nine retail stores in the Tucson region.
